A FAILING GOVERNMENT.

Congressman Hibbern Talks of the Hawaiian Islands.

Congressman-elect Samuel G. Hilborn has returned from a five weeks' trip to the Sandwich Islands, where he went to enjoy a rest and incidentally study the various questions that had racked the little Government from end to end within the last two years.

"I was very much surprised," said the Congressman to a Call representative, "when a San Francisco paper published what purported to be a statement made by me while at a banquet in Honolulu. Among other things it stated that I had declared myself in favor of annexation and that it was my intention immediately upon the convening of Congress in December to introduce a bill for the annexation of the Sandwich Islands to the United States.

"It further stated that I was ambitious to be the Governor of the new territory. Is it likely that Grover Cleveland would make me, a Republican, Governor of the place? And is it likely that I would care to suffer the banishment it means during the term of years covering the office?

"In regard to annexation I made no such statement, do not believe in annexation at the present time, and it is not likely that I ever will. The situation at present is one of grave difficulty, and the population is in no condition, nor is it the proper material to make a State of. There are the natives, Chinese, Japanese, and but a smattering of the Anglo-Saxon races. Under these conditions I would never advocate annexation, and I believe it would be a fatal mistake to bring about such a result. I talked with all classes of people, royalists, constitutional followers and those who are indifferent and I found that the present Government was built on too small a pedestal. There is in the islands a population of 100,000 people, and out of that number less than 10,000 participated in the creation of the present Government.

"I consider it very fortunate that I went there, as one cannot understand the case from reading figures on paper. It is necessary to see things just as they exist. One is at once struck with the scarcity of white people, and I doubt if annexation will produce any different results.

"Yes, we hear about the advisability of getting the islands into the United States for fear that England will take them. Now I do not think she would care to displease America to that extent, and I never have anticipated such a move on the part of England.

"No, I think the plotting business in that section of the world is over.
I am quite confident that while a great many of the inhabitants are not particularly friendly with the Constitutional Government they will never attempt to restore the Queen to the throne by violence.
At one time they were very distressed at the spectacle of the Queen being imprisoned in her own palace, where she is yet by the way, but the feeling is about gone and they are content to witness the Constitutional Government working out its own dissolution. I mean by that just what I say. The present method, and it seems as if there were no other, of conducting the Government on a military basis is gradually causing its ruin. Every month sees it further in debt and such conditions cannot prevail very long.

"Now to illustrate to you how necessary it is to operate on such a basis. Every once in a while information comes from some point on the mainland that a filibustering expedition is about to start out from Vancouver or San Francisco or some other point along the coast and it at once becomes necessary to increase the military vigilance to the detriment of the treasury. Why the last racket in January cost them $100,- 000. Anybody can see that the result will be failure.

"No one knows how weak the Constitutional Government is better than the royalists, and they also know that force would only prolong the time when the present Government will step down and out, perfectly satisfied that there is nothing there upon which to establish a substantial government.

"When Congress convenes in December next I will not make any move to bring about annexation, nor will I take a single step in the direction of legislation unless it comes up in the course of regular business. In that event I will be fully equipped with all the information necessary to act with judgment and impartiality. Not a stone was left unturned by myself to learn all sides of the questions, and at the present time I am satisfied that before long the Queen will return to the throne."—S. F. Call.
